Regular In-Company Classes

Regular In-Company Classes

We ensure that all of your employees' language education needs are taken care of. We can tailor the style and manner of teaching to meet your requests as well as the needs of every student. We employ our own unique methodology, Coach&Practise, which reflects the specific needs of a corporate environment. To ensure smooth, problem-free administration of the lessons, we use the comprehensive Schoolpartner information system, which we developed specifically for the needs of in-company language education. The system gives HR, managers and students access to the information that they need- lesson overviews, attendance, calculation of costs, progress assessments, the results from student satisfaction surveys and more.

D·R·E·A·M | System of Effective Replacement

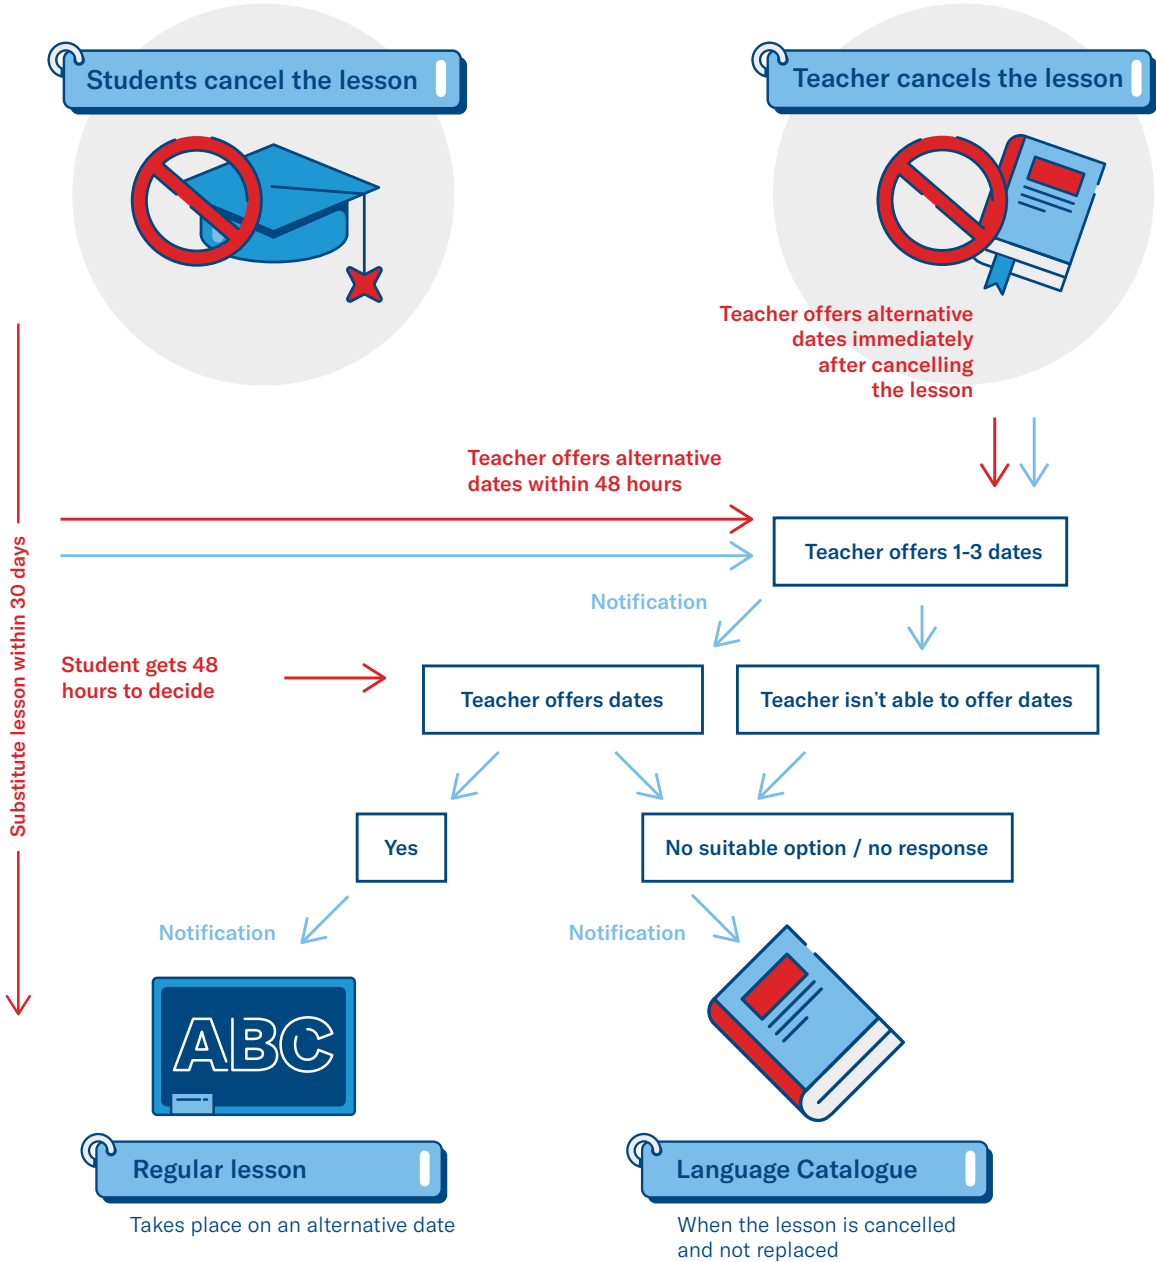

D·R·E·A·M - System of Effective Replacement

D·R·E·A·M enables us to maximise the benefits of in-company language education. It allows cancelled lessons to be smoothly rescheduled, supporting the regularity of language lessons and motivating employees to study further. Should it not be possible to replace a cancelled lesson with the given teacher for a course, D·R·E·A·M provides the Language Catalogue as an alternative to traditional lessons.

The students choose a lesson from the Language Catalogue according to their needs and interests (the students get the chance to practise real-life situations in the form of phone calls, or replacement lessons focused on workplace skills, for example Emails in English, Presentations: Intros, Dealing with Phone Calls and so forth.) Thanks to our new application, students are able to manage their lessons all in one place.

Translation and Interpreting

Translation and Interpreting

Thanks to modern technology used for processing and formatting text, we can always deliver translations in the same form as the original. We offer full-service interpreting services for your events, conferences or training sessions, including the necessary equipment if required.

The pricing of translation and interpreting is set according to the request. Pricing for translation from/to English, German and Slovakian ranges between 312 - 348 CZK per normal page. Pricing for translation from/to other languages ranges between 360 - 420 CZK per normal page.

Residential Language Courses Abroad

Residential Language Courses Abroad

Intensive study away from work meetings and clients allows for maximum focus on lessons. You can expect 5+ hours of lessons daily with all other communication being in the target language.

We cooperate with a selection of high-quality language schools. Thanks to experienced teachers you will overcome language barriers which might hinder you when travelling, you will gain more confidence when using the target language and gain further motivation for study.

Other Services

E-learning

Regular lessons can be complemented by the top-quality e-learning platform www.onlinejazyky.cz – interactive self-study of 6 world languages. A year-long course contains 100 hours of practice and more than 1,200 new words and phrases. We are happy to prepare specific content upon request.

Independent audit, recruitment testing

We also offer our clients independent testing of employees as well as potential candidates during recruitment. This includes a language test and interview in the target language for thorough evaluation of language skills.

International Exams

We provide exam preparation courses set up according to the target exam, including mock tests in the lessons. We provide all the administration for students to register for most international exams. We are certified for ESOL exam preparation by the University of Cambridge.
